[Verse 1]

You've just moved into your student house
You're from the school of hard knocks, you're in uni now
But the first room you see looks awful and it stinks
And the state of the whole place forces you to think
I was meant to move into my student house
But the last tenant hasn't started moving out And the guy who takes my rent didn't force him to be swift
Cause he's not a landlord, he's the lord of the friggin' sift
He's in it for the dough, he's got a dark side because of it
If I call he won't give a f*ck about the problem is Whenever we talked he was ever so withdrawn apart From when he wanted to know how fast I deposited the cash
That's two months rent into his account
I have but had the goon done anything
About the man that still sees this as a place to live
When he's squatting like a woman does taking a piss -
No
I spend my life taking similar answers
So I'm asking do I have to pay to live with this bastard
Yes cause it's the middle of the night, so we can't leave
Now I could throw a tantrum or I could throw a party

[Chorus]

Life has been so crazy but I've got a good feeling
So I wanna share it but I'm new to this
I wanna fill my cup, lift it up to the ceiling
I don't really care who I do it with

(Verse 2)

So now you're on Facebook creating your event page Nearly change your mind because you ain't got very many mates
Lose the doubts because it never really matters
It's a student house
So there will definitely be crashes

That's what you tell yourself,
Oh you're such a wise kid You're throwing your first party and the whole world's invited
You don't want thieves you're only ready to meet the minglers
Cause people take advantage,
Have you never been to Wimbledon?
You said that they can make your event public
Now you've got two weeks to make sure there's enough drink
And when you come back from picking up a few Stella's
The house really won't be big enough for two tenants -
Get It
But that's enough beer humor
Tomorrow can't come any sooner
The minute you wake up it's over
Like cricket from Avie on the sofa

[Chorus (x2)]

Life has been so crazy but I've got a good feeling
So I wanna share it but I'm new to this
I wanna fill my cup, lift it up to the ceiling
I don't really care who I do it with

[Verse 3]

I hope they all come through for me
Even if they don't reply
I don't do this sort of thing usually
But I wanna know what it's like I'll start the hype fam welcome
'Cause it doesn't happen over night
When I hit the parties I'll tell them:
Show me yours and I'll show you mine

[Chorus (x2)]

Life has been so crazy but I've got a good feeling
So I wanna share it but I'm new to this
I wanna fill my cup, lift it up to the ceiling
I don't really care who I do it with
