There's fire on the mountain but it's just another sun.
The Earth is next to nothing on the horizon.
Here the nights are crimson, the color of my heart.
Closer to oblivion, light years apart.
I'm much too far from where you are.
Life on a distant star.
Time is always leaving everyone behind.
Distance can shrink a mountain you though you couldn't climb.
I'm much too far from where you are.
Life on a distant star.
Do you if I'm lonely?
I wonder if you care.
You can't run from isolation even though you may be scared.
I'm much too far from where you are.
Life on a distant star
