Silent serenades
Echoed by the night
All else fades
But the stillness in your eyes

The wheel spins out of sight
Time unfolds and spirals into flight
Fade to white
When the Robin sings I know we'll be alright

Pavement and streetlights
Smiling green goodbyes
Burning blacktop midnights
And aching sorry eyes

The wheel spins out of sight
Time unfolds and spirals into flight
Fade to white
When the Robin sings I know we'll be alright

I'd found a puzzle
We couldn't solve
It was the riddle around which love revolves

We tried, we failed
Stretching for the clues
I nearly broke my back while bending all the rules

And this is what I need to say to you
