If you don't get what I'm saying
That's alright 'cause I'm talking nonsense now
I've stopped trying to be profound
But I still want to let it all through somehow

It's rather hard since I'm really
A quite complex son of a gun
But now's a time to be naïve
And frolic about in the sun

Living can be easy with my new simplistic view
If you let me, I'd like to share it with you
All your worries I will mend with glue
If you smile for awhile you'll mend mine too

I'll make you chocolate pancakes for breakfast
Then we can watch arty movies we barely understand
We'll give each other mix tapes
Stroll in the park, like two lovebirds hand in hand

You're a lot like me and I do believe
We could make something cool come true
And I think you already know
That I really, really, really like you

Living can be easy with my new simplistic view
If you let me, I'd like to share it with you
All your worries I will mend with glue
If you smile for awhile you'll mend mine too

Oh boy, oh boy - when you smile
And look into my eyes
Girl you get me high
It feels like I could die

You have a good heart
And you're both cute and smart!
A walking work of art
Is this an end, is this a start?

But living could be easy with my new simplistic view

And I really hope that I may share it with you
All your worries I will mend with glue
If you smile for awhile you'll mend mine too
