"Shutting Down"

I'm shutting down for awhile
The store is closed, no explanation
Sorry if I served you a lie
I guess I'm afraid of confrontation

Caught between
Jaded thrills and rose garden thorns

All time is now my aurora, just pass me by
All time is now my aurora, this is goodbye
And I remember
The day the Robin made its nest

I've seen it time after time
The lovelorn targets of your affection
A cardiac killing without a crime
I'm afraid I'm part of your collection

When it rains it pours
And you splashed all over me

All time is now my aurora, just pass me by
All time is now my aurora, this is goodbye
And I recall being cold
When my hub was put on hold

Everything that mattered
Closest to the heart
Were left bruised and battered, baby
All torn and shattered, unable to restart
