you tear me apart
by putting yourself on the line just for me to stand and watch it snap you'll fall two hundred feet and you won't even care

lay your head down
on the pillow tonight
think long and think hard
am i your match
what am i

and I won't fall for long distance promises
or lines full of loneliness

make your split decision is it me, is it me

or am i just a flame in the fire

come up with five things i ever did wrong
then i'll take back
everything i ever said
write it down and mail it to my new address it's located so far from you i'm glad we, i'm glad we i'm glad we fell apart
