These telephone lines,
They don't serve me anymore.
Only bringing me bad news.
(Bringing me bad news.)
And my home town
Only makes me want you more When i have nothing else to do

we're driving so that i can see which graveyard it will be keep my cup full so i wont remember the night you buried me alive when i wake up i feel restless as before when you've stolen all my sleep so you can grab your keys but don't forget me don't forget me

you know, it's not too late to edure these things your failed attempts to move me and what i bring
