she cant hide no matter how hard she tries her secret diguise behind her lies and at night she cries away her pride with eyes shut tight starin' at her inside all her friends know why she cant sleep at night all her family askin' if she's alright all she wants to do is get rid of this hell well all she gotta do is stop kidding herself pre chorus:
she can only fool herself for so long
she can only fool herself for so long
she can only fool herself for so long (i'm too weak to face me)
chorus:
i never know
just why you run
so far away, far away
from me
i never know

when he comes to how to live his life he cant be told says he's got it all under control thinks he knows its not a problem he's stuck with but in reality

can be a problem to just quit an addict; he cant hold the reins the pain is worse cause his friends have it the same tries to slow down the problem he's got but cant get off the carousel 'til he makes it stop

pre chorus:

he can only fool himself for so long

(chorus)

try to fly with the wings i gave you try to do what you believe and i'll save you

(chorus)
