You stayed right here for me inspite of what I did to you
You were right here baby
You were always ready and willing to fill my needs
But I was always on the moon, yes, I was

Time has allowed me to heal
And start my life over again
I'm reaching for ways to say I'm so so sorry baby
Help me find a way to begin

Didn't think that I could ever learn to trust
Didn't realize you could ever mean so much
I was so afraid at the thought of getting burnt
Now I'm living out, another love lesson learned

And it's telling me

[Incomprehensible] can't be another touch
'Cause you'll never get to feel the fire of love
You're livin' without a heart

Stop, love doesn't work when you're afraid
And you can't keep going from day to day
You're livin' without a heart

How could I have known
Love was in the palm of my hands, yes, it was
I could always turn my back, baby
Things I didn't understand

Didn't think that I could ever learn to trust
Didn't realize you could ever mean so much
I was so afraid at the thought of getting burnt
Now I'm living out, another love lesson learned

And it's telling me

[Incomprehensible] can't be another touch
'Cause you'll never get to feel the fire of love
You're livin' without a heart

I pretend that's he's here for you to choose

But they'll never be [Incomprehensible]
You're livin' without a heart

Didn't think that I could ever learn to trust
Didn't realize you could ever mean so much
I was so afraid at the thought of getting burnt
Now I'm living out, another love lesson learned

And it's telling me

[Incomprehensible] can't be another touch
'Cause you'll never get to feel the fire of love
You're livin' without a heart

I pretend that's he's here for you to choose
But they'll never be [Incomprehensible]
You're livin' without a heart

Stop running to another place, another time
Looking for what you never defined
You're livin' without a heart

I'm telling myself he's here for you to choose
But you never be [Incomprehensible]
You're livin' without a heart
