As the colors fade away my love

As the darkness turns to day above

Celebrate the one you love

And she says she has a friend inside

Shows her everything she tries to hide

Please stop the pain inside

She don't know

Please stop her pain

I think she's coming down again, I hear the rain

She's coming down again, I hear the rain

And she's dancing with the hands of fate

While she's sleeping with the one she hates

And tonight they celebrate

She don't know

Please stop her pain, stop her pain

I think she's coming down again, I hear the rain

She's coming down again, I hear the rain

And the rain still falls

It's falling down on me

She don't know

Please stop her pain, stop her pain

I think she's coming down again, I hear the rain

She's coming down again, I hear the rain

She's coming down again

She's coming down again

She's coming down again

She's coming down again, I hear the rain
