Oh how the paths change

When the wisdom fades away (yeah)

Something's gonna change these times

And we'll watch them fade away

Never gonna get it back

Never gonna get it back

And that's what they say when I've promised to change
my ways

And we've all had these days

Oh I can feel her

In the inside of these rooms (yeah)

Something's gonna change these times

And we'll watch them fade away

Never gonna get it back

Never gonna get it back

And that's what they say when I've promised to change
my ways

And we've all had these days

Baby I really need your love

I'm glad to have all your love

It's cold outside, I'm trying to hide

I really need your love

I really need your love

I really need your love

I really need your love

I really need your love
