

Party Tea

"The River"

Visit "The River" on MotoLyrics.com

Sailing down, down the Styx again

Without you my love

I want to return but then

I see all my friends

They want me to join but then they all melt away

Without you alone

And the river's running thru my veins

Lately she don't seem the same

And the blood keeps calling out my name

I pass by their sins

Left by a different man

Tides brought them here

Cast by a different hand

And the wisps of the winds

Blow with the Styx again

Pushing me on

Without you alone

And the river's running thru my veins

Lately she don't seem the same

And the blood keeps calling out my name

And the river running down

And the river running down

And the river running down

And the river...

My will must be strong

To rise with a different life

My will must belong

I'm still pushing for different heights

And the wisps of the winds

Blow with the Styx again

The river runs red

And I'm left alone

And the river's running thru my veins

Lately she don't seem the same

And a lie keeps calling out my name

And the river's running (yeah)

Help me baby

Help me baby

Help me baby

Help me baby (...oooh yeah)

Help me baby

Help me baby

Help me baby

Yes

