abandoned straneded at sea i'm floating on the razor deprived of reason and hope my sail was set for failure there's riddles in the breeze this current carries questions there was no land to be seen just the hand of a stranger drowning i'm at my nadir there was no second guessing he said he was my savior he pulled me from the manger he found a vacant bastard naked filled me up with fervor he said the time would come soon i must repay the favor he said i'd be the commander he said they're dead wrong make them listen make them fear it and all will seek the truth and they will find it if the seek the truth within you then they will get it right and when you speak the truth they will deny it there's only truth within you so we marched in cadence for a sadist slaying faithless till the whole world feared your name i am your faithful servant serpants will choose to ignore i am your holy herder i'll lead these sheep into war repay your favor with murder

and you couldn't get it right you sacrifice

and all will claim the truth only one will get it right so close your eyes and you will see it this temple tumbled over this kingdom crumbled from under the thunder slammed upon the damned we stand in equal wonder what an ignominious defeat buried in this hideous deceit the sadist licks his lips with greed the final puzzle complete oh God

oh Lord
we didn't get it right
all lies
all lies
we couldn't see the light oh God
oh Lord
all lies
all lies

stabbed in the back by the savior there's no such thing as the truth all lies
all lies
i was not saved i was misled you should have left us all dead all lies
all lies
and we'll get it right and now i'll be the commander
