so lie in the bedlam you made
and you must have been brave to endure
all this pain on your own
this pain on your own
this pain is my home
and this your pain is my pain and you gave it all to me

father i confess to you your sins are manifested through the lunacy of your cosmic mind take it from the sort of man who suffers while its sleeping
no impunity is granted in this lie curse me till the ocean dries but this will never survive you've perverted the last vestige of a perfect life you may remember me

you called me son
now you call me your enemy

if this is the fire that sustains us we must stop this sun from burning give me the gun
if this is what you call this love we must stop this world from turning load it up with love

oh my god
we must stop this world from from beating

oh my god we must stop this heart from bleeding

my what an audacious claim that you made when you called us depraved and you made us this way
made us this way
allow us to become acquainted i'm the son of the sadist the seed of the rapist
the prince of the darkness the voice on your conscience you're masticating life to manufacture life and i'm not leaving til i wake this dream

you are not exonerated

lie inside your bedlam father dream of when she took the fall and lie in the belam you made
all the this pain on your own

dream of when you raped your daughter lie in the bedlam you made
i know
