I get on with life as a simple man,
I'm a kind kinda person.

I like listening to music and practising guitar.

I like to contemplate moon .

But when I start to daydream,
My mind turns straight to stars.

Sometimes I look at myself and I look into my eyes,
I notice the way I think about stars with a smile,
Curved lips I just can't disguise.

But I think it's moon making my life worthwhile.
Why is it so hard for me to decide which I love more?
Moon or...
Stars?

I like to use words like 'love' and 'super.'
I like to use words about moon .
But when I stop my talking,
My mind turns straight to stars.

Sometimes I look at myself and I look into my eyes,
I notice the way I think about stars with a smile,
Curved lips I just can't disguise.
But I think it's moon making my life worthwhile.
Why is it so hard for me to decide which I love more?
Moon or...
Stars?

I like to hang out with and .
But when left alone,
My mind turns straight to stars.

Sometimes I look at myself and I look into my eyes,
I notice the way I think about stars with a smile,
Curved lips I just can't disguise.
But I think it's moon making my life worthwhile.

Why is it so hard for me to decide which I love more?

Moon or...

Stars?

I hate lies and love.

But I just think back to stars,

And I'm happy once again.
