You hate all the people you see. You'll never do nothing for free.

You kill if you need and you watch as he bleed.
You cheat and you steal and you lie through your teeth.
You like the feelin' of a cold blade piercin' into the bone.
And watch him squirm in pain.

A twisted mind.

Seems like you got a heart made of stone. You'd peel my flesh to the bone.
You rob when you please got your daughter on her knees.
A mental breakdown a killing shakedown.
Out on the prowl in the cover of the night, got your target in sight.
One stab and you leave him lying, dying into the moonlight.

Twisted mind.

Solo

Twisted mind.
Twisted mind.
Twisted mind.
