Sleepy eyed I am walking,
Alone on the edge of the world,
Take a bow to the pureness,
Remember to enjoy the view till it's fading.
I'm diving into the ocean,
To seize the dying of the day.

Running in dreams,
See birds of peace,
How they're flying away,
To reach for the invisible sun.
Knowing my way,
No chance to fail,
Cos the time slips away,
While I'm searching my own fairy tale.

Tongue tied in the riddle,
I see how the tables have turned,
Things are changing.
The laughter of fairies,
Reminds me that summerless year has passed.
I'm diving into the ocean,
To seize the dying of the day.

Running in dreams,
See birds of peace,
How they're flying away,
To reach for the invisible sun.
Knowing my way,
No chance to fail,
Cos the time slips away,
While I'm searching my own fairy tale.

They're poisoning,
Like heroine,
I fear goodbyes
