You will only realize what you have when it's gone
When you lose the only thing, you depended upon
Well I try so much, still it's hard to go on
How could I take it all for granted
How could I be so wrong
I appreciate now just what you meant to me
And I wish I had shown you, the things I could be Sometimes it's so very hard to express
But I thank you for all the things I possess
When you left without warning
How was I to know
That it would be the last
I would see you no more

You're so far away
Though you shine like a star
You are the light in the dark
You let me see
The shadow of me
The shadow of me

I would give up forever, to see you once more
To relive precious moments that we had before
We don't talk because our understanding is strong
We don't need any words
So I'll play you this song
How was I to know
That it would be the last
I would see you no more

You're so far away
Though you shine like a star
You are the light in the dark
You let me see
The shadow of me
The shadow of me

You're so far away
Though you shine like a star
You are the light in the dark

You let me see
The shadow of me
The shadow of me
