I don't want to be antidepressant
I just hope you're not Playing those stupid games when i awake i've got so many things i didn't tell you know everyone sometimes feels shy

I just think that you're not for me
I just want to run away from here
And think about the things you said
I just think that you're not the one for me

i don't want to be your friend
please try to understand

to be your friend
please find now someone else
Now I know this song can make me crazy I'm not sure you will stop to play this game how can i make myself a page outside the stories of your life
if you know this tell me now

I just think that you're not for me
I just want to run away from here
And think about the things you said
I just think that you're not the one for me
