Destroy your world
Destroy the world you know

Everlasting breath
Everlasting breath she gave
All for a world unknown

One by one
Watch them fall
Prepare to shut it down

Crushed open heart
Tears from the sky
Poisoned blood is all that remains

Salt of the earth
Devoured by our hands

Crushed open heart
Burning
Crown of thieves

All that was,
Forever gone
Darkened days

Exit body
Spirit burning
Whispered call
Faith unfolding

Whispers blowing like dreams through a river
While our futures erode into the sand
And the heavens are crashing upon us
While our hell burns beneath our feet

The screams for silence
