This hole in my chest has been getting
The best of my life...

That day in the woods
Hurt me more than any kind of pain
In this life ever should
What's the cause?
I guess I'll walk around in this
Empty shell of all that I was Hold myself
Who else will?
Please be still

Get up off the floor and try
Never let them see you cry
Swimming now
But swans were meant to fly

And the chill of your touch
Never thought I'd miss the cold so much
Wrapped in stone
Felt at home
If only you knew
That this hole was created by you

I can't sleep
Dream of you
There you are
It's not true

Get up off the floor and try
Never let them see you cry
Swimming now
But swans were meant to fly

And the chill of your touch
Never thought I'd miss the cold so much
Wrapped in stone
Felt at home
If only you knew
That this hole was created by you

I walked to the edge
I look at the sea
Never imagined how easy it'd be
You leave me no choice
To hear your voice
I feel so free
It's a difficult way to live out each day
I wonder where you are

Now here I come
Don't step in the sun
I'm almost in your arms

And the chill of your touch
Never thought I'd miss the cold so much
Wrapped in stone
Felt at home

I walked to the edge
To hear your voice
I feel so free

Now here I come

This hole you created
Is now dissipated by you...
