closing doors
holding you back, drawing you in open doors
step right in and take a number
this is our line
this is our time
don't hold your breath
cause you'll never get it back
again
like they always said
but did we ever believe them
now we're leaving

GO.....
stand right up and walk into the world
find a place to call your own KNOW..... if you ever find it hard just to go on tomorrow can't be yesterday
cause that's where i'd be

don't hold back
jump right in, don't regret all the things you can't change, cause they don't mean anything (no more)
this is our line

GO.....
KNOW.....

we don't need somebody to tell us who we are we don't need somebody as long as we believe

GO.....
KNOW.....

and now i see this empty room, is a reflection of me holding onto nothing willingly
this is my time
this is my life
i won't close my eyes
and let it pass me by
like i always did i guess i never believed them now i'm leaving
