She was the most
Beautiful woman I'd ever known
She was the most
Beautiful woman I'd ever known

She died by the roadside, I cried
She was a princess, defenseless
And now, there's a senseless crime

She was the most
Beautiful woman he'd never known
She was the most
Beautiful woman he'd never known

She died by the roadside
He tried to deny that he was guilty
Till he called anonymously

When they found him asleep in his car
At the side of a road with her dreams in a jar
He knew from the cuffs on the wrists
That he'd never existed till now

After searching her place
They dismissed his case
They'd found her note
That's all she wrote
