In you, I've found
The love I dive to drown
With the lips that are so hard to please
You are my only remedy

You're too much, yeah, and I like it
You're too much and I need it
Let's stay this way for a while
And watch the world go round again

You're too much

Across your face
The thoughts I'd like to taste
When two minds meet and act as one
This life, I'd like to lead

You're too much, yeah, and I like it
You're too much and I need it
Let's stay this way for a while
And watch the world go round again

Too much

It's too much, too much, too much
Let's stay this way for a while
And watch the world go 'round again
Watch the world go round again

It's too much

Watching, waiting, anticipating
The way you touch just leaves me shaking
When you get so close to me
You are my only remedy

Take me high
Take me high
It goes round again
It goes round again

Let's stay this way for a while
And watch the world go round again

This is how I want to feel
Only Heaven knows

Take me high
Take me high

Watching, waiting, anticipating
The way you touch just leaves me shaking
When you get so close to me
You are my only remedy

It goes round again
It goes round again
Take me high
Take me high
