I got everything I need
To keep you on my side
A new reason everyday
To keep my head up

And this will be the last time
You get to see my face
To winners it comes crashing down (comes crashing down)
I never understood, what living like this does
Part of me was lost so long ago

If you move with the waves
I'll breathe in the air
We'll walk till the sea is all that we're near
With worn empty hands and tired eyes
And oh, behold, we have left

As I keep myself away
You'll stay my course
Words come so hard but you'll ward me
What I say

Keep moving
I tried so hard
Keep moving
This can't be it
Keep moving
Revive myself before the fight
You will make my end
If this turns me
You'll meet my words on the wind

When it all comes down
To a frozen ocean between us
Keep me alive
You're everything that keeps me

I've got more than just pictures to keep you in my sight
When destiny becomes clear
I'll keep my head up

If you move with the waves
I'll breathe in the air
We'll walk till the sea is all that we're near
With worn empty hands and tired eyes

And oh, behold, we have left tonight
