The sky blacks out,
Blacks out blacks out I wake up in the sand again,
Face down choking on my life,
I begin to put back of the pieces of last night,
But then I realize I don't know where I have been,
Is this a place this is a time, is this a place this is a time,
Or has this lost boy finally lost his mind,
Is this a place this is a time, is this a place this is a time,
Or am I chasing a dream that was never min
nevermind,
Just settle down in to the sand,
We'll sit here holding onto the night,
The sky blacks out followed by dawn,
Till morning comes to finish us off,
I watched you fade away,
Blacks out
Blacks out where did the day light go,
Blacks out,
Blacks out up ahead a light,
That shines through this haze that at once turned the night into days,
We've lost our way again,
But we'll keep moving until sleep,
We've lost our way again,
But we'll keep moving until sleep,
I'm falling down again,
Just can't keep myself on my feet,
Just can't keep myself on my feet,
Just settle down in to the sand,
We'll sit here holding onto the night,
The sky blacks out followed by dawn,
Till morning comes to finish us off,
This is the letting go,
This isn't what was ment to be,
This is the moving on,
This is the end of you and me here is to letting go,
