I was young in a town not far from here
When I met a man with a gun
He was rough, he was tough and meaner than me
And this is what he said

It's A Thin Blue Line, Ohoh
You better step into the heat
It's A Thin Blue Line, Ohoh
Be careful where you put your feet

With some luck had to duck a policeman or two
To get what I wanted to
I struck gold, wasn't old, on the up and up
When I met a man in a suit
He was clean oh so mean and richer than me
And this is what he said

It's A Thin Blue Line, Ohoh
You better step into the heat
It's A Thin Blue Line, Ohoh
Be careful where you put your feet

I reached the top had to stop and clean up my act
Then I met the minister
He was tough, he was rough and meaner than me
And this is what he said

It's A Thin Blue Line, Ohoh
You better step into the heat
It's A Thin Blue Line, Ohoh
Be careful where you put your feet
