In the ground underground In the color of your eyes
In the way you move around In the dark I see you In the sound of your voice In the wind your shadow In the way you are mine
In the color of your lips the color of your lips All around touch me All around use me All around take me away...
In the dark In the night in the light inside of us In the seed of your joy your smile In your smell in your blood

In the way I see you In your smile In your skin In the sound of your heart In the color of your soul the color of your soul
All around touch me, All around use me, All around take me....away...
