This is our dear lord at heaven's gate
See the wings upon his ankles
Here's the chariot
The angels five long years but worth the wait
Further down you have the serpent
I'm the master he's the servant
I keep him caged because he's nervous
For the dragon sleeps below
Far down below
This one is for my sweet beloved
Died at childbirth undiscovered
This one's why I'm here
I suffered covered every wall with tears
Now there's nothing left to see
Tell your children you met me
The perforated man
Don't spring your camera
While I flee
A picture's all I can bequeath
You wont be disappointed I guarantee
Tell your children you met me
The perforated man
