No, don't tell me that everything's in vain
Don't you know that every war will end
'Cause when artboy meets artgirl there's gonna be love

Lust and hunger, gluttony and greed Yes, it's true that bad and mean succeed
But when artboy meets artgirl there's gonna be love if artgirl needs artboy enough

I'll balance their checkbooks, I'll do what they can't do I'll clean their apartments, just as long as they get through

No, don't tell me that the sky is always grey Don't you know that it will clear some day
'Cause when artboy meets artgirl there's gonna be love
if artgirl needs artboy enough

Then the world just stops and then everyone starts
dancing
As they tell you about their symphonies and the poetry they've made
As they guide you through their galleries of all the wonders they create

No, don't tell me that everything's gone wrong Don't you now that this time we'll be strong
'Cause when artboy meets artgirl there's gonna be love
if artgirl needs artboy enough

dancing
As they tell you about their symphonies and the poetry
they've made
As they guide you through their galleries of all the

More love, more love, more happy, happy love.
