(This song is actually called "Friend," but metrolyrics has a spaz when you try to post these lyrics because they don't think you're allowed to have 2 songs called "Friend")

Friend
Since I can remember when
Seems like forever
We've been together
Hey how long has it been?

Friend
I hope you know that you're my hero
Never once thought of yourself
Always there to help
Man you're something else

In the dark you were the light
When the truth was hard to find
When I needed someone to call me on it
You called me on it everytime
Through all the good through all the bad
I knew you always had my back
The best part of being who I am
Is that I get to call you...

Friend
Some got 'em by the hundreds
But when that thunder comes a rumblin'
We're off and runnin'
Makes me glad that I got
ONE
GOOD

Friend
God knows that you've had your moments too
Sometimes I wonder if you knew
How it meant the world to me
To get to be a friend to you

And when I stumble and I slip
You never let me quit
Always knew what to say, what I needed to hear, when I needed to hear it

Through all the good through all the bad
I knew you always had my back
The best part of being who I am
Is that I get to call you...
My Old Friend

Yeah

In the dark you were the light
When the truth was hard to find
When I needed someone to call me on it
You called me on it everytime
Through all the good through all the bad
I knew you always had my back
The best part of being who I am
Is that I get to call you..

Friend
When I look back on this crazy life
At least I know I got one thing right
If all I ever get to do
Is get to call you...
My Friend
My Old Friend
