(David Jones)
Oh, what a night
But now I must forget you
But my heart won't let you
Out of my life

Oh, what a day
We walked around the city
You said now isn't it a pity
That I couldn't stay

But if I could live that night again
(and again)
It would be the same
And if I had the chance
(just one chance)
I'd stay another day

Oh, what a night
Your kisses were so tender
I always will remember
The promises we made

Oh, what a day
You smiled and it was magic
I thought it was tragic
I had to go away

But if I could live that night again
(and again)
It would be the same
And if I had the chance
(just one chance)
I'd stay another day
Oh, what a night

Oh what a night (oh yeah)
At last we're back together
I've been wondering whether
It would feel the same

Oh what a day (oh no)
When you said you had another
I guess I'll recover
To love again someday

But if I could live that night again
(and again)
It would be the same
And if I had the chance
I'd stay another (stay another) day
I'd stay another day
