There is one of her in all of us
There is none of you if you don't trust
There is heart in all of us
Don't let it turn to dust

Ebony
That is the colour of her spirit as she dwells in
The darkest places where we find our secret sins
Within

River
That is the length of her forgiveness as she weeps here
For fear of hurting you
As she ventures further into
She tries for you

Back
Against a wall
Of tall, grim soldiers
For Sylvia
Her smile is silver
She will rule
She will rule
Just trust in her
Her smile is silver
Yeah

Crimson
That is the blood from all the cuts you make that weaken
Her resolve to make you taller than your Reason permits
You make her weep
