It's not a confession, it's cause of fault
His hidden addiction is on the wall, everyone knows Maybe he'll get by Maybe he knows that disappointment comes from those who love him the most

Tie off your veins and just pray for paradise
It's nothing but an emergency
The darkness remains, to pull you from your life
Left with nothing more
Just the trust in me
I'll sacrifice to kill the addiction

It's not an abduction, it's the choice he makes The caused the destruction with his mistakes, now everyone knows
You could say they've tried
But they should know that the outcomes of the assistance are the chances
He's blown

Tie off your veins and just pray for paradise
It's nothing but an emergency
The darkness remains, to pull you from your life
Just the trust in me
I'll sacrifice to kill the addiction
