You know what you are
Born to a star
That's never been anywhere

We, I won't pretend to Say I can see through
Some phoney standing up there

Chorus:
Close your eyes and hope that no one else will see
You realize, exactly what you'll never be
This time, the curtain's landing on you
Some day, I'm going to see this come true
Back when, when we were friends
Now till the end
You promised we'd always be
Now it seems you've got a different dream
Thanks for including me
You smell things so differently

(repeat chorus)
(guitar solo)
