Nothing's better than family for the ones who love you so
Be assure that you're crying or when you're in need They'll never leave you alone, no
When your friends bring you down and they drag you through the dirt
And when nobody's around they'll carry you through the hurt
Just remember that family comes first

Where you're gonna run to when no one is around Do you think of them they love you when your face is on the ground
When you feel your strength is almost gone
And your arms are getting weak
And you don't think you'll keep holding on They'll help you stand tall on your feet
Just remember family comes first

I can see you crying, someone broke your heart Instead of being with those who love you, you spend time apart
It's because you think they won't understand The pain you're going through So you don't reach out your hand for them till they pull and reach for you
Just remember family comes first

Where you're gonna run to when no one is around
Do you think of them they love you when your face is on
the ground
When you feel your strength is almost gone
And your arms are getting weak
And you don't think you'll keep holding on
They'll help you stand tall on your feet

Don't you be ashamed of your family Brought you into this earth and loved you since birth unconditionally, yeah Sometimes you may disappear and you won't see eye to eye
Don't you run away, oh no, they'll be right by your side,

oh, hey

Where you're gonna run to when no one is around
Do you think of them they love you when your face is on
the ground
When you feel your strength is almost gone
And your arms are getting weak
And you don't think you'll keep holding on
They'll help you stand tall on your feet
Just remember family comes first, yeah, comes first
