OOh, girls it's what you say between a phrase it's written on your face.
It's rain against the window pain.
The sounds it makes, it's dreamin the day away
It's the shine of a precious pearl light of the world, the sound of our baby girl.
It's finding a moment for a thought so pure.
It's walking along the shore.
I hold onto the feelings,
cuz i dont know when i will feel it again
I've become amused by the little things,
second of pleasure

[Chorus]

Seconds of pleaseure, lifes little treasures
Seconds of pleaseure, lifes little treasures

Oooh, girl it's small talk a touch so soft, it's watching you walk.
It's the taste of a sour pop- a lemon drop.
It's the last one in the box.
It's a kiss in the mornin' sun.
A few minuets of fun, before you have to run.
It's all the little things that you've done, to ease
my burden, and my confusion.
I hold onto the feelings,
cuz i dont know when i will feel it again
I've become amused by the little things,
second of pleasure

[Chorus] Æ—3
