"She Knows It"

I've never known someone like this she's got a look I can't resist I know in just a little while I'll be the one that makes her smile

Her parents say that I'm no good I don't come from her neighborhood before too long they'll see oh just what she sees in me but when she holds my hand I think she understands

she knows it

it's true it might take a little while i'll be the one that makes her smile

I think she understands
she knows it
she knows all my hopes and dreams she means everything to me someday I'm gonna make her see how good together we can be it's true it might take a little time one day I'm gonna make her mine

but when she holds my hand
I think she understands
she knows it
