The devil may smile with an angels face
A cat may be stolen of its grace
They say it's just a matter of time and place
A matter of time and place

A man may be less than an animal
The antichrist write up the honor roll
The tightrope walker take the final fall (at his house, in the bathroom, on a holiday, and that's in the news)

Oh, the things you see
Makes ignorance bliss for you and me, yeah,
When arrogance does publicity,
Smiling happily

It's a merry go round and around and around
A merry go round and around
Merry go round and around and around
It's a merry go round, oh

The begging boy becomes the begging man
The zealot never saves the sacrificial lamb
And a child want's to know if the Candyman can
The Candyman can, the Candyman can

Everybody want's the fancy car
And we've all been told not to run too far
But everybody wants to be a rock'n'roll star
Rock'n'roll star

Oh, the things you see
Makes arrogance seem the way to be, yeah,
When ignorance spreads conformity,
Smiling happily

It's a merry go round and around and around
A merry go round and around and around
Merry go round and around and around
It's a merry go round

(It's a merry go round, round, round...)
(It's a merry go round and around and around)
(It's a merry go round)

It's a merry go round and around and around
A merry go round and around and around
A merry go round and around and around
A merry go round

Merry go round and around and around
A merry go round, around, around
A merry go round and around and around
A merry go round
