I wish I saved up for rainy days
'Cause they're the hardest to be dry
I got no self control
I'm always begging into telephones

And then I bought a little from my brother's friend
Well, just to get me by, I don't trust his cut
The effect is never as high
As the mark up

I think I'll print it in the personals
That I'm looking for a match
Someone to light me up
Someone to burn the proof
Of the things that I've done

Each day there are hours
I skip like a stone, I just crawl in a bag
I'm gonna live my life
Like somebody's shadow

I know I'm lazy with the little things
I mean I never held a door
But I still loved you more
Than anyone since or before

You are always saying that I owe you one
Well, let's consolidate this debt
Get on a payment plan, I'll pay you compliments
You can still treat me bad

But now it's easy, getting easier
To leave you and this town behind
I'll do some traveling
Once I'm gone tell all our friends you got even

I'm held like an object and then set aside
You know I'm back on the shelf
I'm locked in the drawer, I'm mint in the box
But you would still sell me for cost, wouldn't you?

I'll be anything, the cord of a parachute

I'll be anything, the blanket on top of you
I'll be anything, the window you are looking through
I'll be anything, the cord of a parachute
The cord of a parachute
