I hear the guns I feel the fire, with my last breath my spirit flies
And I see the faces of my friends, fighting till the end
So many fearless hearts.

I feel their courage and their pain, their lives should never be in vain.
From heavens gate a perfect view a plain and simple truth -
Is lighting up the dark

Love one another that stranger is your brother
Leave a footprint, everywhere you go
Keep yesterday for giving, today just for living
Say a prayer every night for tomorrow

I pray the past can teach us all, before another hero falls
Before another mother cries, forever asking why (Why oh why)

Can't we love one another that stranger is your brother
Leave a footprint everywhere you go

(everywhere you go)
Keep yesterday for giving, today just for living
Say a prayer every night for tomorrow

Standing strong and true, on guard for me and you
Standing strong and true, on guard for me and you

So we can love one another that stranger is your brother
Leave a footprint everywhere you go
Keep yesterday for giving Today just for living
Say a prayer every night for tomorrow

Bless the true believers
Who stand and fight for freedom
So we can live in peace right here at home

Live in peace at home

Keep yesterday for giving, today just for living
Say a prayer every night for tomorrow

Say a prayer every night for tomorrow
