We all make decisions
Some you've got to live with
And some you just pretend
They don't exist

Me, I've made some bad ones
In the name of having fun
You pay the price
It's just the way it is

But when I look back in my life
I think where did I go right

I've never been to prison
But sometimes the way I'm living
Feels like a cage
Is wrapped around my soul

The problem of problems
Is sometimes you just can't solve them
But if you've never lived
You'd never know

You're still here with me tonight
Where did I go right?

Had I dodged the bullets
With my name on every one
What better man than me
Having had my love?

I've hurt the ones that love me
Loved the ones that hurt me
Trying hard to be somebody else

Where the road was leading
It had no rhyme or reason
And there were times
I stopped believing in myself

But I'm still singing here tonight
But where did I go right?

Where did I go right?
