I love you to death and ah i wanna tell you about what's inside me and if you know, my life, you will be with me and how much i dreamt of our separation being at an end

why does your distance make me melt and if someone says, you leave me like this and shame on this longing, you torture me and all my words are about you your nights are the ones that remain for me I swear, with your distance my precious love and my wish - if someday you tell me this i come to you and feel you

i love you to death
i love you to death, this night with your closeness you are my whole world and if you think you will come and say this is enough there is no one but you, you're my soul's love and my love
i love you to death
