I lost myself today
Without even knowing what was happening
I've got voices in my head
Making me think that this is where I end

Hey, what do you see, if anything
What do you see in me
Hey, I've lost my way, cause of these mind games
They're making me lost my way

You and me we made a plan
To travel from here to there and back again

Somewhere on that weathered road
I found the dreams that I'd been looking for

Hey, what do you see, if anything
What do you see in me
Hey, I've lost my way, cause of these mind games
They're making me lost my way

Hey, I can see that we have found everything
That we've been missing
Hey, we've got the world to see
So let's forget our anxieties and get on our way
