Who are you now,
First love of mine?
If you could see
You'd reach out for me.
In hallways
And in secret doorways
Were love's hiding places
With nowhere to go.
Goodbye
To the fields and byeways.
I remember saying
I don't want to leave,
'Cos you were all there was to know about me.

Somewhere
On this crazy island
A familiar stranger
Sleeps so far away
But wonder
In the eyes of children
And the smile of fortune
Helps the memory fade,
'Cos they are all there is to know
About me.

Who are you now?
