You left a letter as your clue
Sent me in the air at the spot
Where I first kissed you
Holding my head in my hands
You brush a tear off my face
One on one you confess
This is all you can take oh

I'm broken and tired
There ain't nothing left to say
I'm crying
Didn't mean to watch as
You just walked away

Let her go (just let her go)
It's too far in motion
Just let her go (just let her go)
My heart can't gain control
It's too late (just a little bit)
It's too far (just a little bit)
You're leaving me behind
Just let her go (just let her go)

I should take it all back
All the kisses I gave you
The tears that you left me with
I don't know how to react
On my own, by myself
How could you say goodbye

I'm broken and tired
There ain't nothing left to say
I'm crying
Didn't mean to watch as
You just walked away

Let her go (just let her go)
It's too far in motion
Just let her go (just let her go)
My heart can't gain control
It's too late (just a little bit)

It's too far (just a little bit)
You're leaving me behind
Just let her go (just let her go)

It's cold, it's cold, it's cold, it's cold
It's cold in here without you
It's cold, it's cold
I'm broken
Thought it could be you
When you think of it
Every little piece of it
Is keeping me from turning blue
Had to turn away
Didn't want to see
You giving me away

Let her go (just let her go)
It's too far in motion
Just let her go (just let her go)
My heart can't gain control
It's too late (just a little bit)
It's too far (just a little bit)
You're leaving me behind
Just let her go (just let her go)
Let her go (just let her go)
It's too far in motion
Just let her go (just let her go)
My heart can't gain control
It's too late (just a little bit)
It's too far (just a little bit)
You're leaving me behind
Just let her go (just let her go)
