

Varsity Fanclub

"Love Song"

Visit "Love Song" on MotoLyrics.com

Yeah
Oh

I woke up this morning
With a song in my head
And a picture I couldn't erase
I sang all around the house
And the words that I sang
All the things I couldn't say to your face

Trying to just tell you
But every time I said that I could do better
I wrote you a poem
I sent you a message
But somehow my voice is best way you can this

And I want you to get this before it's too late
And I want you to feel every word that I say
And I want you to hear every breath that I take
You know I take a thousand more each day
And every melody you hear is about you
And every lyric couldn't live without you
So I decided to give this gift to you (you)
This is your very first love song
Very first love song

I spoke through my heart
Every syllable I'm telling is
From the courage to tell you how I feel
I was down around the corner
To the coffee shop
Everyday you're in the window sitting there

I wanted to tell you
I didn't know how
But somehow the words
Just couldn't come out of my mouth
And sometimes a song
Speaks better than words
And this one is your very first love song

And I want you to get this before it's too late
And I want you to feel every word that I say
And I want you to hear every breath that I take
You know I take a thousand more each day
And every melody you hear is about you
And every lyric couldn't live without you
So I decided to give this gift to you (you)
This is your very first love song

You know baby girl
There are so many more to come
And you give me so much love
I'll give you the world

Get this before it's too late
And I want you to feel every word that I say
And I want you to hear every breath that I take
You know I take a thousand more each day
And every melody you hear is about you
And every lyric couldn't live without you
So I decided to give this gift to you (you)
This is your very first love song

Get this before it's too late
And I want you to feel every word that I say
And I want you to hear every breath that I take
You know I take a thousand more each day
And every melody you hear is about you
And every lyric couldn't live without you
So I decided to give this gift to you (you)
This is your very first love song

This is your first love song
This is your first love song
(I couldn't live without you)
This is your first love song
(Give this gift to you)
This is, this is
(Cause it's your very first love song)
This is your very first love song
This is your very first love song
This is your very first love song
This is, this is
Very first love song

Visit Varsity Fanclub page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.