Attitude, is my addiction I live life with no regret.
Unlike you, it's my conviction it sets me apart from the rest.
I live for competition, your cynicism only makes me
stronger
I am the culmination, setting the standard that all will follow.
I live it every day.
Don't know another way.

Within my eyes is devastation,
a fury you can't understand
In my fight, with my intention
I bring it with all that I fuckin' am.
I fuckin' am
You never dealt with self-rejection
Licking your wounds that won't fuckin' heal
You've never seen so much aggression
I hear you scream till your fuckin' silent.
I live it every day.
Don't know another way.

Attitude, is my addiction I live life with no regret.
Unlike you it's my affliction that creates the template of all that I am
all that I fuckin' am.

You know what I know,
No matter what you say,
You'll be beaten today like every other day.
Something about you, keeps you from letting go.
I believe obsession is strong inside you.
Forget the guess work,
Your staring at the storm
Gazing into my eyes you'll see there's no remorse
You live in my war, all day and every day
Until involved in conflict, yeah!

Bring on the competition
Your pessimism only makes me stronger
I am the culmination, the fuckin' standard that all will follow.
I live it every day.
Don't know another way.
