Im stuck in a memory of us
Its so hard to know that were worlds apart
And I was so wrong to think this would all be so easy
But trust me I'll be back for more
For then I'll close my eyes
And your past will be safe with me here
Forever

I dive into a world of fact and fiction
But Im swimming in my own contradiction
In my fantasy you are here with me

You can say it's alright
You can say you don't mind
Its killing me to be away from you
So you can say it's alright
And you can say you don't mind
Its killing me to be away from
Your side

Im done with hellos and goodbyes
Im falling apart inside
I try to make you speak
But your beautiful, awkward silence falls on me

But trust me I'll be back for more
For then I'll close my eyes
And your past will be safe with me here

Forever

I dive into a world of fact and fiction
But Im swimming in my own contradiction
In my fantasy you are here with me

And it makes my nights a little richer
Im falling in love with a faded picture of you, my fantasy
You are here with me

You can say it's alright
You can say you don't mind

Its killing me to be away from you
So you can say it's alright
And you can say you don't mind
Its killing me to be away from...

You are the burning in my throat
A gentle wisp of smoke
That ever quickly floats past my face
Then you're gone, and I wish it wasn't true

You can say it's alright
You can say you don't mind
Its killing me to be away from you
So you can say it's alright
And you can say you don't mind
Its killing me to be away from you
