There's a wind
In your eyes
In the still, of the night
You are here, in my voice
Inside of me
Am I wrong
To resist
In your arms, alone like this
And I know, the way you feel
Donna please
Wanting you, touching you
You're here in my soul
It's wrong to do
He's still with you
Oh Donna please
Does he know
You pretend
That you love, only him
Long ago, you belonged to me
Donna please

Wanting you, touching you
You're here in my soul
Can't you see, oh Donna please
This won't go away
Close the door, turn the page
I can't let you go
If he wants you tonight
Will you tell him, no
There's a wind
In your eyes
In the still, of the night
Donna please
